PORTIS' GOLD MINES FOR SALE.

ON Saturday the 20th day of December next, on the premises, I shall offer for sale, by virtue of a decree of the Court of Equity, entered in the matter of Thomas J. Portis and others, heirs at law of John Portis, deceased, the celebrated and far famed Gold Mines, known as the PORTIS' MINES.

The said mines are situated in Franklin County about thirty miles from Halifax town, twenty miles from Warrenton, and eighteen from Louisburg.

The tract of land contains about 1300 acres, lying immediately on Shocco Creek, and for farming purposes alone, is a valuable estate; but its agricultural value is completely eclipsed by its immense value as a mine.

There have been few instances in North Carolina, where an estate of such vast magnitude has been offered for sale publicly.

These mines have been worked about 18 years, and it is estimated that a million of dollars have been dug out of them—and there are parts of them now as rich as the sands of the Sacramento.

A large portion of the lands—the very choice parts, were carefully reserved by the late proprietor, which he always called his "POCKET BOOK."

The value and richness of these reserves are beyond all human calculations. An effort will be made to divide the mining lands, so as to bring the lots within the limits of individual enterprise—very few men being able to purchase the whole estate.

To the enterprising capitalist here is a most inviting field—even the portions that have been worked still abound with the precious ore, and those huge piles of rock and sand, by the ignorant thought valueless, under the control of scientific men, would yield unnumbered thousands, after paying the cost of machinery and labor.

In many parts of the reserves it is believed that every cart-load of gravel will produce a penny-weight of gold dust. The water to wash is close at hand, and timber and fuel in abundance on the land. The dwelling house is large and convenient—also a large number of framed negro houses, almost new, together with every necessary out house. This land is sold for division among the numerous heirs, and it must go for what it will bring. A credit of one, two and three years will be given and bonds bearing interest from the 1st of January next, well secured, will be required of the purchaser, and possession given on the 1st of January 1852. Letters addressed to me at Louisburg will receive prompt attention.

MASONIC INSTITUTE.

GERMANTON, N. C.

GERMANTON LODGE No. 116 of Ancient York Masons, take pleasure in informing their brethren of the order, and the public generally, that they are about establishing at Germanton, an institution of a high grade of scholarship, for the education of males.

They, with many others, having long felt the want of a school of this character in this part of the South, have taken measures to build up an institution that will give to our young men every advantage for obtaining a thorough education in any part, or the whole of a College Course. Students can be prepared for any of the College classes.

Mr. GEORGE M. EVERHART has been elected by the Board of Trustees as the PRINCIPAL. Mr. Everhart has had the experince of nearly seven years as Teacher—four years as the Principal of an Academy, and three as an instructor in one of the most popular colleges in the South. Marked success has attended his efforts in each of these departments. Moreover, if scholarship and untiring energy and a devotion to his profession, can recommend him to our people, he surely will receive their entire confidence. Several competent assistants will aid him, and such other means will be employed that shall raise the School at once to a position of superior usefulness.

Germanton is remarkable for its healthy location, and the morality of its citizens. Board can be obtained in our best families at the low price of $6 per month.

The scholastic year is divided into two unequal sessions, the first commencing on Tuesday, the 1st of January, 1852, continues 15 weeks. The second, commencing on the third Monday in June, continues 27 weeks.

The prices of tuition are as follows:

Ancient Languages, - -	$25 per year,
English and Mathematics, - -	18 - -
The Primary branches, - -	14 - -

Important to Millers & Mill Owners.

THE Undersigned would respectfully inform those engaged in the Milling Business in N. C., that he keeps constantly on hand, and will supply at the shortest notice, that almost invaluable article

YOUNG'S IMPROVED PATENT SMUT AND SCREENING MACHINE.

The only Machine of the kind that has stood the test and given satisfaction to the public. It has surplanted every Smut Machine yet offered in the State, more or less of which has been taken down to make room for it. The public need fear no imposition, as there are now some 280 Machines running in N. C.; and I wish to offer no other references than the gentlemen who are using them, whose expectations have been more than realized in their performance. It not only thoroughly cleanses the Wheat of smut, but also purifies it of all other substances, almost to perfection. It takes up but 4 feet square in the Mill, and requires but little power. It is warranted for five years against breaking or wearing out, and also to retain its cleaning qualities for that time.

There are a number of these Machines through which 100,000 bushels of Wheat have been cleaned, and they have never been out of order one day.

There was awarded to it the Premium at the Maryland State Fair, and a Premium with a Silver Medal, at the Fair of the Maryland Institute, at Baltimore, last Fall.

Sale of Valuable Real Estate.

IN OXFORD, N. C.

ON MONDAY, the 15th of December next, at the Court House Door, in the town of Oxford, I shall sell, by Public Auction, to the highest bidder, the House and Lot in said town, with the Lands thereto attached, for many years owned and occupied by Thomas B. Littlejohn, Esq.,

It is not often that property so valuable and desirable is offered for sale. The improvements consist of a large well built two story Dwelling House, Kitchens, Dairies, Offices, Ice House, Granary, Carriage House, a large falling Garden, and all the other fixtures that usually belong to a well improved residence, in town or country. The Dwelling House is 56 by 40, with four good rooms and 12 feet passages on each floor, four rooms in the basement and two in the garret, and is situated in the midst of a beautiful grove of forest trees, of four or five acres in extent. There is no situation in this part of the country, which combines more advantages, as a residence, whether the object be elegance of comfort or both together. Though not more than 250 yards from the Court House, it is as quiet and retired as a residence in the country.

Attached to the improved Lots, there is a Farm of some 120 or 130 acres, well watered, in good condition, with 8 or 10 acres well adapted for Meadow nd.

At any time before the sale, I will take pleasure in showing the premises to any one desiring to purchase.

TERMS OF SALE:

One-third Cash, the residue in two equal annual payments; the title to be reserved until the whole purchase money is paid. Possession to be given immediately.

I shall sell the above described property as Trustee appointed under a decree of the Court of Equity of Granville County, in the room of John Nuttall, deceased, the original Trustee named in a Deed in Trust executed to him by the said Thomas B. Littlejohn, and for other purposes. The title is unquestionable

SMITHFIELD ACADEMY.

THE Second Session of this Preparatory School will commence on the 1st Monday in October next, under the Superintendence of Mr. WILLIAM CARROL, a Graduate of a University of Pennsylvania, who comes recommended by Dr. Wm. A. Smith, President of Randolph Macon College.

The Trustees now flatter themselves, that the School is permanently established, and hope since they have taken every pains to secure the talented services of a highly educated gentleman, to be sustained by the friends of education in this portion of the State.

Smithfield, once looked upon as an unhealthy location, has for the last 6 or 7 years become entirely regenerated; and will now rank first in healthfulness and beauty of appearance, among the Villages in the eastern half of the State.

Tuition per Session of 5 months:

Reading, Writing and Spelling,	$ 6 00
Geography, Grammar and Arithmetic,	10 00
Higher Branches and Mathematics,	12 00
Greek and Latin,	18 00

Board can be obtained for from four to six dollars per month.

By order of the Trustees,

Patent Compound Wash Mixture.

For Washing Clothes—Also, for Washing, Cleaning, and Beautifying Painted Surfaces, the Walls, Ceilings and Entries; the Halls, Parlors, and Rooms of Private and Public Buildings; the Fronts, Doors and Windows of Fancy Dwellings; the Pews and Interior of Churches; Furniture; the Berths, State Rooms and Cabins of Steamships, Steamboats, and Packet-Ships; Passenger Cars, Brasses, Iron Railing, Glass or Metallic Surfaces, &c., &c.

WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction, and designed to effect an entire revolution in the business of the laundress—being an improved Preparation for Washing Clothes perfectly, with astonishing facility and dispatch, and without injury to texture or color. Every family, of whatever size, can do all their washing in less than one hour, without the labor of rubbing, pounding, bleaching or the friction of a machine, thus saving time, expense and labor, and securing exemption from the diseases caused by the exposure and fatigue incident to the usual mode of Washing, while Clothing itself will be saved from the wear and tear of the wash-board and friction, and last much longer.

The undersigned, having purchased from the Patentee, the sole right and interest for the State of North Carolina, in his Patent Compound Wash Mixture, hereby informs the Public, that he wishes to dispose of Family or County Rights for the same.

Persons living at a distance, wishing to procure the right to make and use this Valuable Preparation, can do so, by remitting FIVE DOLLARS to me, at Raleigh, which amount will entitle them to a family right; which right shall be sent by mail immediately, with the proper directions to make and use the same. I am in possession of a large number of certificates from Ladies and Gentlemen of high standing, not only in this State, but in Maryland, Virginia and South Carolina; but, I deem it unnecessary to fill a long Advertisement with them, unless requested, as the article will speak for itself, and is so favorably known in all the Northern and Southern States.

I aim to visit all parts of the State at as early a day as possible, to give the Public an opportunity of testing its value.

Feeling satisfied by the use of this Mixture in my own Family, that it cannot fail to please all who try it, I invite all to call and see or send in their orders to

PROSPECTUS OF THE North Carolina University Magazine.

THE Students of the University of North Carolina, having deliberated in a body on the expediency of establishing a literary organ, and well convinced of the mental and perhaps moral benefit which may result therefrom, have resolved to execute their design. They take this appropriate means of informing the public. No legitimate department of literature will be excluded from the Magazine, and it is presumed none will be held objectionable, provided the article be thoroughly winnowed of the chaff of improprieties. Every effort will be exerted to interest its readers with originality, and enlighten them with valuable information. We do not indeed expect to produce aught "which the world will not willing let die;" but as we are aiding in the purpose which has placed us at College, on this account we may justly expect encouragement. To those who take an interest in us personally, and to those who sympathise to any degree in the ends which prompt us, we appeal unceremoniously and with sure hopes of success. The Editorial Corps will always consist of six members of the Senior Class. The Magazine will be issued monthly, (excepting January and July,) from the Press of Wm. D. COOKE, Raleigh, N. C. To him also all subscriptions and business communications must be addressed, (post paid.)

The first Number will be issued 1st February 1852. Terms of subscription $2, in advance.

Successor to the firm of Oliver & Procter,

Sign of the R. R. R. R.

Doors Open from 6 o'clock, A. M. to 9 P. M.

ADMISSION FREE.

HAVING purchased out the entire interest of Thos M. Oliver, in the late firm of Oliver & Procter, I avail myself of the very first opportunity to inform the patrons of the said firm of the fact and to solicit from them the continuance of their support. I have just received a beautiful supply of goods, selected by Mr. Oliver, with great care, from the latest importations, mebracing

Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings of every colour dan grade, Dress-Shirts, Under-Shirts, Drawers, Cravats, Handkerchiefs, &c., &c.

In fact, everything usually kept by Merchant Tailors or Clothiers. I shall be assisted by Mr. Geo. L. Gould, an experienced Coat cutter, (and a pupil of Mr. Oliver's—in fact, having been Oliver and Procter's coat-cutter for the last fourteen months.) I shall have charge of the pantaloons and vest department myself, and I have had exclusive charge of it in the late firm for the last five years.

Everything will be done that can be done, to give satisfaction and to render the establishment popular with its patrons. Profoundly thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon us as a firm, I shall endeavor by assiduous attention to business and a desire to please, to merit its continuance.

ISAAC PROCTER.

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

HAVING made arrangements to leave the State, at furthest by the first of December, and having disposed of my interest to Isaac Procter, (my partner for the last eight years,) I take pleasure in recommending him to those who have stood by me so long, as a gentlemen every way worthy of their confidence and support.

I look upon Mr. Procter, without attempting to disparage others, and what I say now must be believed, (being totally disconnected with him in business) as being the very best cutter I ever saw. He will be assisted by Geo. L. Gould, a pupil of mine, who has been cutting all the Coats made up for our customers for the last fourteen months, and has no superior in that department. I have left in the concern all the patterns I have of my customers scattered all over the State, and they may rely upon being as faithfully served, having their cloths, as well cut and made, and the quality of the materials just such as would be furnished, were "The BUG," present in "propria persona." I have laboured hard to build up a business in North Carolina, and desire that those who have patronised me should continue to uphold my late partner, particularly when assured by me, that they will be as well served as they were under the administration of OLIVER & PROCTER.

HON. ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

Was long a resident and representative in Salisbury; one of her brightest ornaments and distinguished. He was the son of a distinguished lawyer, late Judge Richard Henderson (for a biography see Vol. I. 116), and was born in Granville County, 7th Aug. 1756, and was educated in that county; studied law with Judge Williams, his relative, and was pronounced by one well qualified to judge, "the most perfect model of a lawyer that our bar has produced."*

This sketch was published soon after Mr. Henderson's death. I looked to him as a model of that perfect character, I looked for the profession of the law, which all his brethren should emulate, and from that time to the present.

* I became acquainted with Archibald Henderson in the year 1803, and from that time to the year 1809, I was in the profession of the law, which all his brethren should emulate, and from that time to the present. I looked to him as a model of that perfect character, I looked for

KOSSUTH.

This extraordinary man has made a score of Speeches in England, upon nearly every topic connected with Hungary and Europe, and in all of them he has sustained himself in the most admirable manner. One of the strongest proofs of his genius is to be found in the fact, that with a knowledge of the English language gained only in an eighteen month's study of it under many disadvantages, he is able to address by the hour audiences thoroughly English, without the least hesitation, and with a choice of words scarcely surpassed by Brougham, Cass, or Webster. The London Correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser gives the following sketch of his personal appearance and manner as a speaker:

"His personal appearance is very prepossessing. His countenance changes with every expression to which he gives utterance. His voice is full, clear and musical. His enunciation is uncommonly distinct. His action is rapid, but almost always graceful. His manner is cordial and open. His reception of the unbounded applause with which he meets, whether in the streets or during his various receptions, is full of meaning, and less subdued in its expression of feeling than to that which we are accustomed in our country. However his first visiting England may be regarded in the United States, it was undoubtedly a capital stroke of policy. England becomes to him now a vantage ground, upon which he may observe, and from which he may be ready to act, in case of an emergency in Hungary. He does not hesitate to avow this everywhere, and to declare that he looks to the continent in the constant hope of being able at no distant day to throw himself again into a struggle which shall shape out a glorious future for Hungary."

Kossuth has certainly displayed in his Speeches in England, a wonderful vigor, beauty, and versatility of thought. We have read these Speeches with pride and joy. They wake up the best feelings of the heart; they send the blood with quickened life along the veins; they make us love and admire, more and more, the man who has conceived and uttered them; and they serve to attach us, by still stronger ties, to the cause of his crushed and suffering land. His Birmingham Speech is, perhaps, the greatest he has delivered. What more noble, for instance, than the following. He is speaking of his people, and of the spirit which moved them in their late struggle:

"But it was said it was he (M. Kossuth) who inspired the Hungarian nation. No, it was not he who inspired them; it was the Hungarian people who inspired him. [Hear, hear.] Whatever he thought and felt was but a feeble pulsation which in the breast of his people beat. [Hear, hear.] The glory of battles was ascribed in history to the leaders, and theirs were the laurels of immortality; they knew they would forever live on the lips of their people. Very different the light spread on the image of those thousands of the people's sons who knew that where they fell they would lie, their names unhonored and unsung, and who still, animated by the love of freedom and fatherland, went calmly on against the batteries whose cross-fire vomited death and destruction upon them, they who fell, falling with the shout—"hurrah for Hungary!" And so they died by thousands, the unnamed demigods! [A burst of cheering.] Such was the people of Hungary. [Cheers."]

We hope to make room in our next for this great Speech.

Kossuth has clearly shown that he is no Anarchist, no Red Republican, or Socialist. He is a Democrat—we use the word in no party sense—because he believes in man's capacity for self-government, and looks to the people as the only true source of power in all countries. He is no professional Revolutionist, as his conduct has proved; he avoided bloodshed as long as it was possible to do so, and he stood by the House of Hapsburg until the last ray of hope that it would do justice to Hungary had departed. A Protestant, the Catholics fought under him with as much spirit and unanimity as if he had been one of their own faith; one of the people, the nobles of his country first placed him in office, and contributed as much as any other class to make him the foremost man in all Hungary. We have watched the career of this extraordinary being with the deepest interest. Judged by his acts and expressed opinions, he stands forth a Republican of the truest stamp; he speaks of the power of the people, of representative government, of the meanness of despots and their minions, of Church and State, and of the necessity of keeping them separate in establishing free governments, with as much ease, force, and common sense as if he had been born in America, and educated at the feet of Jefferson or Washington.

Kossuth's reception in England has been a triumph of which Napoleon might have been proud in his palmiest days. Hundreds of thousands have risen up to greet him and to do him honor. "No man," as the European Times well remarks, "has produced any thing like the sensation which Kossuth has done in the different nations of Europe, and the blaze of triumph will follow him from the old to the new world. Surely there is a moral in all this on which despots would do well to ponder."

JUVENILE CONCERT.

We attended the Juvenile Concert, given by Mr. Kemmerer in the Town Hall, on Saturday evening last; and we are sure we but express the feelings of the large audience present, when we say that every one was delighted with the exercises. Some seventy or eighty children, though they had received instruction but for some two or three weeks, acquitted themselves in the happiest style, calling down repeatedly the enthusiastic applause of the audience. The charge per pupil is certainly as cheap as possible—only fifty cents. We know of no one who has visited the City of late, who has done as much good for as little money.

It will be seen that Mr. Kemmerer will give another Concert this (Tuesday) evening.

We learn that Mr. Kemmerer proposes to form another Class, provided he should be sufficiently encouraged. We hope he may be. Send your children to him—the instruction he will impart to them will be worth all the toys, candies, and the like, in town. A knowledge of vocal music is an accomplishment which every one ought to possess; and we all know how important it is to begin early in training the youthful mind.

Go to the Concert to-night, and you will have an opportunity of judging for yourselves of Mr. Kemmerer's qualifications.

We regret to announce the death of Thomas A. Hayden, Esq., formerly one of the Editors of the Mountain Banner. He died at Rutherfordton on the 21st November, aged about 40 years. Mr. Hayden was a practical printer. He was for fifteen years the foreman of the Charleston Mercury office, and in 1848 he established the Mountain Banner. He was a handsome writer, a man of energy and excellent business habits, and a most useful and worthy citizen.

ALABAMA. The election of a United States' Senator from Alabama, in place of Mr. Clemens, after a good deal of warm discussion, has been postponed until the 4th Monday in January next.

MR. TOOMBS.

Mr. Toombs, Whig, has just been elected by a large majority to the United State's Senate from the State of Georgia. About the time of his election he made a speech in Milledgville, the substance of which we find in the Athens Banner. He took the ground that the old issues were all settled; that no one desired a National Bank, or an increase of the Tariff; and he said he had acted recently, and expected to act hereafter with what he termed the Constitutional Union party. Among other positions he assumed the following:

"That those measures of the late Compromise which were specially intended for the protection of the South were voted for by 34 out of 50 northern democrats is Congress, and by only 24 out of 80 northern whigs.

That the northern democrats have, in every State, gone into the recent elections with a faithful adherence to the Compromise as a part of their political creed, and condemned all agitation for repeal or modification.

That in no single instance have the northern whigs planted themselves on the Compromise in good faith, but that, controlled by the Seward wing of the party, they have either condemned it or insisted upon agitating the question of repeal or modification of portions of it.

That, although he could not undertake to say positively what would be the result, he felt bound in candor to say where the principles of the Georgia platform would be LIKELY to carry us—and that was, to act in union with the NATIONAL DEMOCRATS."

What will the North Carolina Whig leaders say to that? Has not Mr. Toombs, one of their own party, and over whose recent triumph in Georgia they so much exulted, told them and the Southern people just what we have been saying all along in regard to the fugitive-slave law, and Seward, and the two parties in the free States? Here it is, in black and white, from the mouth of Robert Toombs, that Seward is the controlling spirit in the Whig party of the free States, and that the Whigs in that region are opposed to the fugitive-slave law, and the Democrats in favor of it. What stronger testimony than this is wanted? Mr. Toombs candidly adds that he is likely to be in a condition to support the Democratic candidate for President; and as he goes so goes the Georgia Whigs.

What says the Raleigh Register to these developments? Will not the North-Carolina Whig leaders listen as readily to the advice of Georgia Whigs, as to that of New York or Massachusetts Whigs? Or is Gen. Scott, Sewardized, to be the Whig candidate in this State? We shall see; but in the meantime we can perceive events driving in that direction. Scott and Jones will probably be the men; Fillmore and Graham may make a very pretty fancy ticket, but that is about all. Scott and Jones—gunpowder and fun. Very well, gentlemen, that is a little warmer than Fillmore and Graham. We shall be ready for you.

MR. SUMMERS.

The Raleigh Register, our readers will remember, is in favor of George W. Summers as Governor of Virginia. We have already shown what sort of a Whig Mr. Summers is—we have shown that he once held that Slavery was founded in injustice and wrong, and that he availed himself of the Southampton tragedy as an occasion of pressing his Abolition opinions before the Legislature of Virginia; but the following, from the Richmond Examiner, reveals a new stripe in this gentleman's cloth. The Examiner says:

"Mr. George W. Summers is an Episcopalian. He is a leading member of that venerable church. He has no business with any other church. When the "great split" in the Methodist Church came about, George W. Summers took it upon himself to go among the Methodists of his region, and to urge upon them by an elaborate speech, their adherence to the Northern Conference. We understand also, that he has upon his own lands a chapel in which preachers from his beloved Alma Mater—namely, the State of Ohio, the Mazog of Abolition—come over and address the faithful few of the Northern hive.

This is the gentleman whose "opinions, sentiments and instincts are with the South and the South only." We have not the smallest intention of entering upon the controversy between the wings of the Methodist Church; but this thing is certain:—that they quarrelled about slavery, and that George W. Summers went very far out of his way to get on the side of the North."

The Whig candidate for Governor of Virginia sympathized, it appears, with the Methodist Church North, and endeavored to get the Methodists of his region to adhere to the Northern Conference. How does the Register like that? Is Mr. Summers a specimen of the Whig candidates we are to have hereafter for this high office in the slaveholding States? If the Editor of the Register were a Virginian, would he sustain this man for Governor?

"Old Virginia" will throw a December gloom over this Summers' hopes, in a day or so from this. We are not afraid to trust that State on a question like this. She will do right, come what may. The State which bore up against the Harrison and Taylor storms, will not elect a Whig, and especially such a Whig to the office of Governor as George W. Summers.

RAILROAD JUBILEE AT WELDON.

We learn from the Weldon Patriot that on the 24th of last month, the cars of the Seaboard and Roanoke Rail Road crossed the Roanoke river on the old Portsmouth bridge, and for the first time entered Weldon. Weldon is now in daily communication with Portsmouth. On Tuesday, the 25th, the day set apart for the general jubilee, a large concourse was in attendance, from various quarters, and among them Gen. McRae, of the Wilmington Road, the Hon. R. M. Saunders, of this place, the Hon. W. S. Ashe, and Dr. Collins, Mr. Cunningham, and other gentlemen of distinction.

Dinner was served up in Gresham's Hotel, of which a large number partook. Speeches were delivered by Gen. Saunders, Mr. Ashe, Mr. Cunningham, Dr. Collins, and others.

The celebration went off in the best style, and the company separated with renewed zeal in the cause of Internal Improvements.

MR. WEBSTER.

A Convention of the friends of Daniel Webster was held in Boston last week, at which he was nominated for the Presidency. The Convention is said to have been largely attended. An address to the people of the United States, setting forth the services and claims of Mr. Webster, was drawn up by Edward Everett, read, adopted, and directed to be published. Mr. Webster is recommended as a national man, and the West and South are appealed to in the most earnest manner to support him.

Mr. Webster will never be President of the United States. A large majority of the American people differ with him radically as to the nature and character of the government; and this, of itself, would be sufficient to prevent his election.

The Plank Road between Fayetteville and Carthage is now in constant service. The Editor of the Carolinian states that on a recent trip from the latter to the former place, he met sixty-seven wagons, and passed quite a number on their way to Fayetteville.

We copy to-day, from the Mountain Banner, a full account of the killing of Samuel Fleming, and the trial of Mr. Avery at Morganton. This account was prepared by a gentleman of the bar cognizant of all the facts, and may therefore be relied upon as correct.

SOUTH-CAROLINA.

The Message of Gov. Means is brief, and devoted mainly to State affairs. On the subject of Federal politics and the attitude of South-Carolina, the Governor holds the following language:

"On the subject of Federal relations I have but little to say. You are fully aware of our wrongs, and know that the Federal Government which was instituted for our protection and welfare, as well as that of the other States, has directed all its energies to the destruction of that institution upon which our very vitality depends. You know that we have been deprived of every inch of that territory which was won, in part, by our blood and treasure; that we have been robbed by a tyrannical and unjust government of the very graves of our gallant countrymen who sacrificed their lives that the "Star-spangled Banner" might float in triumph on the bloody fields over which it waved. You know that our equality in the Union has been denied, by the very act which excludes us from this Territory. You know that the tide of Northern fanaticism must sweep over us, depriving us of our property, and desolating our homes, unless it is stayed by the bold efforts of freemen, worthy to be free. The noble attitude of resistance which I supposed the State was about to assume, and which I have directed all my energies to place her in, seems to have been delayed or abandoned, judging from the popular voice, as indicated by the result of the late elections. I cannot believe that this result has been founded in a willingness tamely to submit to our wrongs, but in a difference of opinion as to the best mode of redressing them. I know of no other mode to recommend than that which I have heretofore so earnestly advocated, viz: That as our equality is not acknowledged in the Union, "we should assert our independence out of it." This course I think our pride, our honor, our safety, alike demand. Others, whose opinions are entitled to respect, think differently—and it seems the popular voice has sustained them in their opinions.

It remains now for those who have defeated the proposed mode of action, and who have proclaimed their unalterable purpose not to submit to our wrongs and degradation, to point out a better course. I, myself, have none to suggest. Whatever is the action of the State, through her constituted authorities, it is my duty to obey. But I solemnly call upon you, as the representatives of the people and as guardians of their rights, to remember that since you resolved upon resistance, and ordered the State to be armed for defence, no single wrong of which you then complained has been redressed; no indemnity has been offered for the past; no security for the future. That under the vaunted Fugitive Slave Law, it has cost, in some instances, the owner four times the value of the slave to recover him, and in others, his life. But above all, I call upon you to remember that the soldiers of the Federal Government are now stationed on your coast, either to overawe or coerce you. That the guns of Castle Pinckney, and even of Fort Moultrie (which your fathers so gallantly defended) and which were ceded to the General Government for your protection, are now frowning upon Charleston. Surely this monstrous insult, added to our injuries, will rouse the pride and patriotism of our people. The dangers which threaten our country call upon us to bury the party feelings which have so unfortunately divided and distracted us, and to unite all our energies against the common enemy of our institutions. The taunts, the insults, the abuse, that is heaped upon our State, should cause every true son of Carolina to cling to her with an allegiance still more unfaltering. Gentlemen, the honor and safety of our beloved State, is in your keeping. May God direct you in your deliberations."

PORK.

The last Asheville Messenger says that large numbers of hogs are passing through that place, and the owners are asking $5 50 and $6 per hundred. Corn is selling on the road at 62½ to 75 cents per bushel.

The Patriot states that a lot of hogs was disposed of in Greensborough last week, at a fraction over $7 per hundred; and some pork from the County had been sold at $7.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? This question is pointedly asked us by a correspondent, who related the fact that the reason why the reigning sovereign in England was called by a name so different from that of any of her predecessors on the throne, was the disinclination of her father, the late Duke of Kent, to have her called by the name of any preceding queen. This disinclination, our correspondent says, arose from a reflection on the fact that almost all the Seconds on the throne, had met banishment, deposition or violent death. The concidence is certainly very striking.

Edward II., (the Martyr) was murdered in the year	978
Edmund II., (Ironside) murdered	1017
Harold II., killed and his kingdom lost	1066
William II., (Rufus) killed by Tyrrel	1100
Henry II., whipped at the tomb of Thomas A. Becket, and died of grief.	1174
Edward II., murdered	1837
Richard II., deposed and murdered	1400

EMANCIPATION OF WOMEN. A few days since an address was presented to Madame Kossuth in England, by a deputation from the "Society for the Emancipation of Women." In addition to an expression of sympathy, this address contained the wish that the wife of the honored hero of the day would communicate to these ladies her sentiments respecting their efforts to achieve the freedom of her sex. Madame Kossuth replied, that she thanked them heartily for this proof of their sympathy towards herself, and, through her, more particularly towards her country; that, with respect to her own views on the emancipation of women, she had in earlier years confined herself to the circle of her domestic duties, and had never been tempted to look beyond it; and that latterly the overwhelming course of events had left her, as might well be supposed, still less leisure for any speculations of this kind. It would, moreover, (such was the conclusion of her little speech,) be readily forgiven her, the wife of Kossuth, a man whom the general voice, not more than her own heart, pronounced distinguished, if she submitted herself entirely to his guidance and never thought of emancipation! The admirable pertinence of this reply will be doubly appreciated when it is mentioned that Madame Kossuth was altogether unprepared for the address of these ladies.

KOSSUTH AND HIS ENEMIES. It is stated that agents of the Austrian despot are engaged in New York in the work of endeavoring, by the most insidious means, to poison the minds of the citizens against the illustrious Kossuth, and to induce them to believe that the great Magyar is not only one of the greatest humbugs that ever existed, but that he is a devil incarnate, devoid of the feelings of humanity, cruel and despotic. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says:—

"To effect their object, the most infamous slanders and falsehoods are promulgated in a quiet way, and such journals as are supposed to be hostile to him, are put in possession of these falsehoods, from whence they are issued to the world. In fact, the game played in Marseilles by the notorious attache, is being repeated here, but I am happy to say, with very indifferent success."

HOME MANUFACTURES. We have been shown by Mr. Robert F. Webb, a specimen of Venetian Window Blinds, manufactured by him, at his establishment in the eastern part of this county. The specimen exhibited displays a neatness of workmanship and beauty of appearance equal to any of Northern manufacture, and the fixtures for raising and lowering, and for diminishing or increasing the light, work with the utmost nicety and ease.

It gives us pleasure to notice new manufactories, one after another, springing up in the South, and we hope this enterprise of Mr. Webb will meet with suitable encouragement. Hillsborough Recorder.

STORM IN MISSISSIPPI. The New Orleans Bulletin of Monday says: "We learn from the memoranda on the manifest of the steamboat Magnolia, arrived yesterday from Vicksburg, that there has been a violent thunder and rain storm in Mississippi, causing immense damage to the cotton crop throughout the State."

POSTSCRIPT.

We learn by Telegraph, just as we are going to press, that LINN BOYD, of Kentucky, has been elected Speaker of the House of Representatives, and JOHN W. FORNEY, Clerk. These gentlemen were nominated by the Democratic members for these posts, on Friday night last.

The President's Message is, we learn, quite a lengthy document. It was no doubt sent into the House yesterday at 12 o'clock. We shall endeavor to give the substance of it in our next issue.

[Correspondence of the New York Express.]

PARIS, Monday, Nov. 10, 1851.

The political features of the last three days are few but important. From present appearances, universal suffrage is in a bad way. The monarchical majority holds out against the President with a resolution worthy a better cause. The committee appointed to examine the President's electoral bill, consists of 15 members, 13 of whom are in favor of suffrage as it exists. They will make their report either to-day or to-morrow. Their report of course will be against the ministerial bill, and will conclude in favor of the present restricted system. The Assembly will then vote whether it will accept or reject the conclusions of the report. It would be arguing against hope, to indulge a belief that the committee's report will be thrown out at the first trial. It seems almost inevitable that the monarchists will cling to their scheme of vengeance against the President by deserting him, for having, as they claim, deserted them. It is a new system of reprisals, in which the interests and needs of the nation are unheeded and uncared for. As I shall have occasion to report the arguments that may be adduced in the grand discussion, I may as well defer further reference to the subject till then. But according to the declarations of the Republicans and Bonapartists of all shades of opinion, from Emile Girardin to Lamartine, from De Veron to Gueroniere, the monarchical fractions which have dubbed themselves the great Party of Order, are, by their reckless course, hurrying the country on to civil war.

Another important feature is the presentation by the questors of the Assembly of a project designed to place an army ten times as large as the whole disposable force of the United States, at the discretion of the President of the Chamber, or in case of need, at that of the questors, whose office is that of an elevated door-keeper. This proposition tends to make the Assembly supreme and to render its will and voice superior to that of the President's stand in favor of universal suffrage. But it is already buried out of sight under an avalanche of newspaper missiles. Friend and foe have united to condemn it as useless, inopportune and dangerous. Even though no other man had lifted his voice against it, Granier de Casagnac's terrible assault on the Constitutional would have demolished it, alone. This writer rarely contributes to the editorial columns of that journal, his History of the Convention, which appears in the feuileton, occupying the greater part of his time. But when he does write, every blow tells. He is, perhaps, the best political writer in France. He and Giradin together, killed the law of the 31st of May, or at least reduced it to its present position—inexecutable, though still upon the Statute Book.

It is hardly probable that this proposition of the questors will ever be discussed. It is more likely to be withdrawn. A counter proposition has already been presented by General Faboilt, to the effect that "the Chamber, strong in its majesty, renounces all military aid for its protection." It is also said that the President by way of contrast to the military projects of the Assembly, intends to suppress the scanty corps of troops that does duty at the gates of the Elysee, and content himself hereafter with a bodyguard of one.

But the Assembly may vote itself an army if it likes; the President will always have one ready at his command,—at least, if he is always as skilful as he has been of late to the officers and men. The General-in-Chief presented to him yesterday between five and six hundred officers attached to the Regiments newly arrived in Paris. The President addressed them in the following words:

"Gentlemen—In receiving the officers of the various regiments of the army which succeed each other in the garrison of Paris, I congratulate myself in seeing them always animated by that military spirit which was formerly our glory, and is to day our security. I will speak to you neither of your duties nor of your discipline. You have always performed your duties with honor; whether in Africa or upon the soil of France, the discipline has always been maintained in the midst of the most difficult trials. I hope such trials will never return, but if circumstances oblige me to appeal to your devotion, I am sure it would not fail me, because as you well know, I should demand nothing of you which is not in accordance to my rights, or recognised by the Constitution, with military honor and with the interests of the country; because I have placed at your head men who possess my entire confidence, and who deserve yours; because, if a day arise, I should not do as have done the governments which have preceded me; I should not say to you, 'March, I follow you,' but I should say, 'I march, follow me!'"

An army would never hesitate, if called upon, to choose between the Legislature and the Executive,—between 750 men and one man, between M. Dupin and Louis Napoleon Bonaparte. Imagine the army under the orders of the first of these gentlemen, who sits all day with a bell in one hand and a glass of sugar and water in the other. The army has, and always has had, a rather contemptuous idea of National Assemblies. "Tas d' aaocats," heap of lawyers, is an expression that has been more than once used by military gentlemen when speaking of the national representation. If things ever come to such a pass that the army were forced to side with either the President or the Chambers, they would offer their services to turn the latter out of doors with the greatest alacrity.

Forestville Female Academy,
R. W. JUSTICE, A. B. Principal.

THE exercises of this institution will be resumed on the third Monday in January 1852, under the care of the Principal above named, a gentleman who graduated with distinction at one of our State Colleges, and has had considerable experience as a teacher. He will be aided by an assistant every way competent to teach Music and all the ornamental branches usually taught in Seminaries for young Ladies. In point of health, intelligence and good society, it is believed Forestville and the surrounding country cannot be excelled by any locality in the State. And the Trustees are determined that an opportunity shall be offered parents to educate their daughters here, as well as at any similar school, and at the same time keep them free from the distractions and extravagance of towns.

TERMS

Per Session of five months, 7½, 10, or 12½ Dollars, according to advancement in English branches.

Latin and French, each, $5.

Music on the Piano, with use of instrument, $18

" Guitar " " " $18

PLEASANT GROVE ACADEMY,
WAKE FOREST, N. C.

THE next session of this institution will commence on the 2nd Monday in January next, under the supervision of Mr. William M. Crenshaw, a graduate of Randolph Macon College. Mr. Crenshaw comes highly recommended by the faculty of said institution,—has a great talent for imparting instruction, and possesses a good knowledge of human nature.

Students can be prepared here for any College, or for the active pursuits of life.

This institution being permanent, and situated in a neighborhood distinguished for its health and beautiful scenery, a liberal share of patronage will be expected.

The Trustees are building a new Academy 1½ miles from Forestville, which will be completed by the next session.

TERMS—$7, $10, and $15 per session of five months, according to advancement. No deduction except in cases of protracted illness. Board can be obtained at $6 per month. For further particulars address Dr. W. H. HEARTSFIELD, at Forestville.

J. CREECH.

A FEW more weeks for bargains, as I am determined to close out my stock of GOODS at private sale without much regard to the cost, and the cost is very low, which you will find by pricing them. No pains will be spared in selling every one who may favor me with a call, much less than ever before offered in this Market, because the GOODS will be sold at some price or other, which I want you to bear in mind. You will find in this Store a good assortment of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, nearly all purchased this fall in New York, of the latest importations. Also, a large stock of Shoes, Boots, Hats, Caps, Bonnets, Ribbons, Double and Single Barrel Guns and Pistols, Hard-ware and Cutlery, and almost every article ever kept in Dry Good Stores.

A few Casks of fine French Brandy and Muscat Wine, and also a large lot of Rectified Whiskey. I am able to fill any size order that may be wanted, from 1 to 500 barrels, lower than the market price. Call and see for yourselves. J. CREECH.

LEATHER FOR FALL TRADE,

AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

WE respectfully announce to our friends and the trade, generally, that we have determined to spare no efforts on our part to give Petersburg a Leather and Finding Establishment, whose stock shall compare favorably with that of any house, North or South. We are receiving from the importers and manufacturers of the Northern Cities one of the largest and best selected stocks we have ever known in this market, and we pledge ourselves to sell our goods as low as any South of New York, and many articles as low, if not lower, than they are to be had, even there, as we have now in full operation a large and well arranged Tannery, from which we shall be receiving Leather regularly.

We have also Brogans of our own manufacture, which we warrant a superior article.

Also, Shoemakers' Tools and Lasts, together with many other articles usually found in similar establishments, all of which will be sold in accordance with the above statement; and the only way we can prove this, is for purchasers to come and examine for themselves, and we shall be content to abide the result.

WOULD observe, that, as the season draws on, for Fall and Winter Clothing, they have anticipated the wants of the people, and would be pleased to show all who may favor them with a call, their assortment, consisting of

We would call your attention particularly to the assortment of Overcoats, as it embraces every desirable and late style. Our PANTS are excellent. Fastidious as well as men of Fashion, can here find something to please them, let their tastes be as various as our calls, and in fact, the only difficulty will be to choose from, rather than to find any particular style or color.

In the assortment of VESTS, you will find rich Cut Velvet, Merinos of all colors, Silk, light and dark Cassimere and Valencia, some of them really beautiful.

Our furnishing Department is complete and full, and we hardly deem it necessary for us to enumerate all the articles comprised under that head. You will find however, a large assortment of Shirts, Drawers, Gloves, Suspenders, Cravats, H'd'k'fs, Socks, Cotton and Merino.

Call and examine our stock, we shall be glad to show our goods at all times, regardless of trouble, sale or no sale.

For the Cure of

This remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which seldom fails to realize the happiest effects that can be desired. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind, is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs, which are incident to our climate. And not only in the formidable attacks upon the lungs, but for the milder varieties of Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness, &c., and for children it is the pleasantest and safest medicine that can be obtained. No family should be without it, and those who have tried it, never will.

Read the opinion of the following Gentlemen, who will be recognized in the various sections of country where they are located—each and all as merchants of the first class and of the highest character—as the oldest and most extensive Wholesale Dealers in Medicine with an experience unlimited on the subject of which they speak. If there is any value in the judgment of experience, see

This Certificate.

We, the undersigned, Wholesale Druggists, having been for long acquainted with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, hereby certify our belief that it is the best and most effectual remedy for Pulmonary Complaints ever offered to the American People. And we would, from our knowledge of its composition, and extensive usefulness, cordially commend it to the afflicted as worthy their best confidence, and with the firm conviction that it will do their relief all that medicine can do.

DICKENS' NOVELS AND TALES,

Illustrated in 4 vols, price $6. For sale by

W. L. POMEROY,

Raleigh, Nov. 10.

Rare Chance for a good Investment.

IS now offered by the Subscriber who wishes to dispose of his Carriage and Harness Manufactory.

This extensive and well known Establishment, has now been in operation for upwards of 10 years, and has turned out and sold more vehicles than any other in the State. The sales for the last five years have averaged upwards of $20,000 per annum. The Establishment is situated on Main Street, and comprises a Wood Shop containing 8 benches; a Harness Shop, containing 4 benches; a Blacksmith Shop with 4 forges, and Large and commodious Paint and Trimming Rooms—all new and in excellent order. There are besides these a large wood house, filled with an immense quantity of fine seasoned Timber, adapted to every department of the business. A Turning Lathe and Saw moved by horse power; a new Pump on the premises. Shelter for vehicles, and in a word all the improvements and conveniences found in the best Establishments either North or South.

Immediately opposite, are the Dwelling House and Ware House. The Dwelling-house is a fine two story building, with an acre lot attached, having all necessary out houses and conveniences required by a family. The situation is elevated, healthy and pleasant. The Ware-house is a new two story 50 × 26 ft. building, and cost upwards of $1250. In addition to these will be found a large and varied assortment of all new and of the latest style.

The position of Greenville, situated as it is in the midst of the wealthiest and most fertile portion of the State,—connected with Raleigh and the west by a Plank Road, with the east and the seaboard by a river always open to Steamboat navigation—besides the high character of the Establishment, for the durability and elegance of its work, combine with the growing importance of the place to render it the most appropriate point in Eastern Carolina for a Carriage Manufactory. The purchaser will obtain the most accommodating terms, and any reasonable time to make his payments.

To his friends and patrons the subscriber returns his hearty thanks for their liberal patronage, and informs them that he has now on hand the largest and finest assortment of BUGGIES and other VEH
